

love hope faith

1 Corinthians 13: 13 But now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.

By Darby Scott

WOW! What an experience! As many of you have read on my blog, <http://darbyonamission.blogspot.com/>, it has been an exciting journey from S.C. then to language school and then to the orphanage in Casa Bernabé. It has been amazing how God has opened doors for me to meet people from all over the world and to minister to them. I'm continuing to pray for salvation for two friends I was able to share the gospel with in Antigua. Please pray that I will boldly share the gospel to my peers as I visit language school over the next six months.

As I moved to the orphanage, Casa Bernabé, God continued to open doors allowing me to minister to and encourage small children in the baby and toddler houses, the teens through dance classes and to adults who work there. Please pray that Satan will not win the battle as I work with teens that need to experience the love that only God can give. Pray that God will give me all that I need in actions and words to reach these precious children that have little to no hope of a better life. Help me to help the hurting, lonely and lost.

Please pray that God will strengthen me as I travel alone. Help me to look past my personal needs and look outward at why God placed me there. This has been a wonderful journey but a difficult one. God is doing great things in my life, I have grown spiritually, my faith has multiplied, and the Lord has provided all that I need and more. God has given me a sincere love for the Guatemalan children and their culture.

As I travel back to Casa Bernabé January 17 I want to thank all of you for your prayers and support over the past 6-months and would like to ask that you continue to pray for me. The interesting thing about missions is that you never know what assignment you will have next. I'm sure my assignment when I return will be exactly what God wants me to do there and will open up doors I can never imagine.

What can you do to help?

1. Please pray for the following:

- * Opportunity to share the gospel
- * Softened hearts to allow God to make changes in their lives
- * A friend with whom I can share these experiences and chat about our personal walk with God.

2. Support Casa Bernabé:

To receive a tax deduction, the IRS stipulates that the donor must release control of all funds donated to a non-profit organization. For this reason, contributions from sponsors cannot be refunded, nor can they be designated to any specific person. The church has complete discretion and full control over the use of all donated funds. This means that Eternal will decide how to use the donated funds for the designated mission. You may give directly to the missionary but it will not be tax deductible.
